

Love Letter

Dear

Every day with you has been a blessing. I still thank you because you said yes. You are my sunshine. I was thinking about this anniversary the other day a girl and guy meet crazy events happen, they fight then they make up and end up together. I was just thinking that our love has been sort of like that, only in real life. The truth is I can't imagine living my life with anyone else or loving any one else. You have been there for me for everything. You are my inspiration and the reason I get up for work every day.

I still feel like a kid with you and it's hard to believe you picked me. I pinch myself sometimes to make sure that it's real. Happy anniversary honey, I love you so much and more love to give you through the years.

With all my love,

Yours forever,
